DESCRIPTION

Coldwell Banker Immoba Realty real estate agency presents:

In the very centre of Parentis-en-Born, in immediate proximity to shops, services and the lake, this building offers strong potential for an investment project or patrimonial enhancement.

The property currently comprises three distinct spaces:

On the ground floor, a commercial unit of approximately 60 m², let under a current lease, provides a stable immediate rental income (€936/month). Beside it, a two-room apartment of about 45 m² with a private outdoor area, in need of full renovation, offers the possibility to create an attractive dwelling suited to the local market.

The upper floor houses a large four-room family apartment of approximately 100 m², vacant, in good overall condition and requiring only minor modernisation, allowing rapid use without major work.

The layout offers several possibilities: keeping the units separate, combining the two apartments, a traditional or furnished rental project, or even using it as a main residence with supplementary income.

Significant improvements have already been carried out in recent years, notably roof refurbishment in 2025 and external insulation in 2024, thus limiting short-term technical investments. The building also has double-glazed windows and separate electricity meters.

Its central location and quick access to the lake increase the property's appeal, both for a long-term investment and for a medium-term value-enhancement strategy.

This property is not subject to co-ownership.
